THE COMMONWEALTH. FRANKFORT.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1863.

The situation in the vicinity of Washington is becoming interesting. Lee is endeavoring to fool or out-flank Meade. If the former, it is for the purpose of concealing the sending of large reinforcements to Bragg; if the latter, we may look for an attempt of the same strategy which last year culminated in the disgraceful defeat of John Pope; but which now, we hope and trust will be foiled by the skill of Meade.

Meade has fallen back on the north side of the Rappahannock.

The following from the Washington Republican, of the 12th inst., doubtless gives the best information about the movements of the armies:

The Washington Republican of last evening contained the following, which the censor would not allow to be telegraphed to the press: We have information from the front this morning that General Meade's army has fallen back to this side of the Rappahannock, followed by Lee's army, which is in great force about half a mile from the south side of that river.

The enemy made a feint of moving up the valley on the southern bank of the Rappahannock river, and our cavalry, under Buford, crossed at Germania Ford, and took possession of the earth works abandoned by them. When our force was all across, the enemy came against Buford in great force, drove him across the river, and without giving him time to destroy the crossing, pursued him to Rappahannock Station.

Kilpatrick, with a force of cavalry and artillery, which had made a reconnaissance near Madison C. H., was out off yesterday afternoon on the road to Culpepper, by a portion of Ewell's corps, which was turned across the only road by which he could retreat in twelve ranks, with two regiments on each flank.

Kilpatrick was compelled to charge directly into them. He led the charge in person, telling his men they must die. The cavalry cut its way through, under the concentrated fire, such as has hardly been experienced by our troops during the war, and probably his rear, with his artillery, retired through Culpepper. Kilpatrick's loss in killed and wounded amounted to 150.

Gen. Meade is said to have displayed good generalship in bringing his army back to the line of the Rappahannock when the enemy made his feint of moving up the valley. Meade also made the feint of following him in force to attack him in the rear, massing his troops at Raccoon Ford for that purpose. This drew back Lee's army, so that the intended flanking movement was frustrated. Meade has brought off every wagon and all his stores.

The foolish censorship of the press at Washington will deprive the country of early and accurate information, and, whatever takes place, we will have to await the slow course of the mail for the truth. One thing is very clear, that the rebels are on the eve of a stupendous effort, either at Washington or at Chattanooga.

Ladies Read This.

As the winter months are approaching, the high prices of fuel, clothing, and provisions are all engrossing subjects of interest, even to the rich. If they are disposed to complain, what is to become of the poor? Are no kind thoughts to be entertained, no charitable hearts to be exercised, no efforts to be made in their behalf? Shall not some means be devised for the comfort of our unfortunate fellow beings?

To accomplish this end, we appeal to the ladies to give some agreeable entertainment—for instance, a TABLEAU; and, as our citizens contribute to a noble object, they will enhance their pleasure thereby. You did this last year, and your efforts were well repaid by removing a load of sadness from many hearts and causing many disconsolate faces to be lit with a smile. Will you not do so again? Do not spend too much time in considering the matter, but say it is a "fixed fact" that the poor must be cared for, and that you are ready to lead off in the work. We shall look for the programme soon.

The Elections.

The returns thus far indicate the election of Brough, in Ohio, and Curtin, in Pennsylvania, by large majorities. There can be no doubt of this general result.

We have frequently remarked that the election of Vallandigham, would be a national calamity, and while John Brough was by no means our choice, yet if the signal victory, which has been achieved, should be used, in good faith, towards the preservation of our Constitution, the maintenance of the laws, and the restoration of our Union, the conservatives of the nation will be satisfied.

Col. BERRY, the accomplished commander of the Louisville Legion, reached our city on Wednesday, direct from Chattanooga. In the desperate conflicts at Chickamauga, he displayed the same skill and gallantry that was conspicuous in his conduct at Shiloh and Stone river. We are glad to know that he, although in the thickest of the fight, escaped unhurt.

The construction of a line of telegraph from New Albany to Mount Vernon, Ind., will we are informed, be commenced immediately. The line traverses the Ohio river border, passing through all the principal towns between New Albany and Mt. Vernon.

Synod of Kentucky.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church, in Kentucky, convened in annual session in the Presbyterian Church in this city, on Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock, P. M. The attendance at the commencement of the session was not as large as usual, owing, no doubt, in some degree, to the disturbed state of the country, but principally to there being no trains now running upon our railroad, the Government being engaged in widening the gauge. There were sixty Ministers and Elders present upon the call of the roll, all of the Presbyteries in the State being partially represented, except the Presbytery of Paducah, from which no Minister or Elder was present.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. A. A. Hogue, of Transylvania Presbytery, who was the last Moderator present, (Dr. Yerkes, the last Moderator, being absent on account of illness in his family); the text was 1st Epistle of John, 3d Chapter, 1st Verse, viz:

Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! Therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

From which a good, plain, practical discourse was preached. After the sermon, the Synod was called to order, opened with prayer, and proceeded to business. Rev. Joel K. Lyle, of West Lexington Presbytery, was elected Moderator, receiving 32 votes, to 23 votes cast for Rev. J. M. Worrall, of the Presbytery of Ebenezer. Rev. James A. Lapsley, of Transylvania Presbytery, was unanimously elected Temporary Clerk.

After fixing the hours of meeting and adjournment for each day of the sessions, Synod adjourned until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

At the time of writing this, nothing of any special interest has transpired in the deliberations of the body. A number of members not present at the opening were in attendance on Thursday, and a pleasant and harmonious session is anticipated. There will be preaching at the Presbyterian Church on each night during the session of Synod, and on Sabbath at 11 o'clock, and at night. We presume, as is usual, the pulpits of the other denominations will be filled by members of Synod, if desired by the members of those Churches.

Gen. Meade has issued an order to the Army of the Potomac, calling attention to the 220th paragraph of the Army Regulations, which strictly prohibits "deliberations or discussions among any class of military men, having the object of conveying praise or censure or any word of approbation toward their superiors, or others in the military service, and all publications relative to transactions between officers of a private or personal nature, whether newspaper, pamphlet, or hand bill." Gen. Meade says this regulation has hitherto, to a certain extent, been practically disregarded in the army, but recent occasions make it necessary to insist upon a rigid observance of its requirements, and, that there may be no misunderstanding upon the subject, it is declared by him that meetings or combinations, expressing their regard for their superiors or others in the military service, in the way of presentations, or their disapproval of the acts of their superiors or others in the military service, by resolutions, will be considered as violations of the regulations, and noticed accordingly. The "recent occasions" which "render it necessary to insist upon a rigid observance of its requirements" are doubtless the arrangements among the officers and soldiers of the army of the Potomac to honor their old leader, General Geo. B. McClellan. Gen. M. may be right in the enforcement of this regulation, but thousands throughout the land, who honor the skill, character, and moral heroism of McClellan, will think that it would have been in better taste if General Meade had come to this conclusion before he was, in the presence of the army, and with a flourish of trumpets by the enemies of McClellan, made the subject of one of the most distinguished demonstrations on the part of his subordinates in command. We refer to the presentation of a sword to him, by his old corps, through General Crawford, on which occasion some of the most prominent officials and politicians attended, and others sent letters. This will be the feeling of a large number. But we are inclined to the hope and belief that Gen. Meade's deservedly high character as a soldier and gentleman may save him from the imputation of improper motives.

The train which leaves Covington in the afternoon, on the Kentucky Central Railroad, will hereafter proceed no further than Lexington. The morning train will run through to Nicholasville, as usual.

LATEST NEWS.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, October 12.

The trains have all come in safely and in excellent order. Kilpatrick and Buford also arrived at the river, and are in line of battle. Our forces are now in position to contest the further advance of the enemy, who appear in force south of the river. I do not think a general engagement will take place to-day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.

The military situation to-day shows that the rebels have abandoned their apparent purpose of flanking Meade, and withdrawn toward the Rapid Ann. It therefore looks as though their late movement is some cover to military demonstrations on their part elsewhere. All quiet in front to-day.

The change of position made by our army was effected without the slightest confusion. The amount of stores destroyed or left behind would not make a car load together.

The loss in General Gregg's division of cavalry is said to be severe. The 13th and 14th Pennsylvania and 10th New York suffered most.

On Sunday night our forces crossed the Rappahannock, and on Monday morning two corps reoccupied and drove the enemy to Brandy Station with severe loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners.

On the rebel side they received an order to fall back, which they did in good order. Gen. Buford, with his cavalry, on the left, Kilpatrick in the center, and Gregg, on the right, Gregg and Buford succeeded in holding the enemy in check on right and left until nine o'clock, when, acting under order, they fell back on main body, the proposed move having been effected.

A SOUTHERNER COMPELLED TO DISGROSS.—A week or two since a Southerner arrived in this city, bringing with him a very large sum in cash, stated at upward of twenty-five thousand dollars, which he probably intended to invest in Northern securities for future benefit, preferring the substantial stocks of the hated "Yankees" to the rather shaky financial institutions of his beloved but at present rather dilapidated Confederacy. By chance a merchant of this city ascertained that this stranger had been in times previous to the rebellion a customer of his house, and was still a debtor to the extent of several thousand dollars, which he had either forgotten or designedly neglected to pay. The place of deposit of the debtor's valuables was also ascertained, and, armed with the proper legal authority placed in the hands of an officer of the law, he proceeded to make a levy upon the same to the extent of his demand, with interest, after which the balance was returned to the stranger, who, perhaps from fear that other creditors might further deplete his coveted hoard, disappeared from view and has not been seen, though several persons have been making affectionate inquiries in regard to his whereabouts.

CONFLAGRATION AT CAMP DENNISON.—SEVEN GOVERNMENT BARRACKS DESTROYED.—A SOLDIER BURNED TO DEATH.—About 11 o'clock on Monday night, a fire broke out in Barracks No. 12, at Camp Dennison, and almost immediately the flames had gained entire possession of the building, and spread to the adjoining barracks numbered 11 and 13. Every effort was made to extinguish the fire, but unsuccessfully, and in order to prevent the flames from spreading further, the two barracks adjoining on either side were torn down with the utmost dispatch, and by this means the rest of the buildings were saved. Among the smoking ruins were found yesterday morning the charred remains of a soldier, who had been burned to death in the conflagration. He was a private in Co. E, 9th O. V. C., and came originally from Cumberland county, Virginia. There is reason to believe that the fire was the work of an incendiary, as the flames seemed to break out simultaneously all over the building, while Gen. Bragg and staff, and most of the men were away, attending a Union meeting in Milford. But the matter is at present under the investigation of Dr. M. F. Carey, who, we have no doubt, will succeed in unraveling the mystery. The fire report states that another soldier was also burned to death, but whether correct or otherwise we are not able to say.—Cin. Gazette.

HEAD-QUARTERS KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, Frankfort, Oct. 13, 1863.

CIRCULAR.

It is the purpose of the Governor to stop receiving forces for State defense, under the call for 20,000, so soon as the number raised reaches 10,000—that number, in connection with the organization of the entire militia, being deemed amply sufficient for any emergency. But a short time will elapse before this number will be raised. For troops under this call, no bounty is offered, save the inestimable privilege of defending their own homes.

The remaining 10,000 under this call will be given up for the general service in the field, wherever the military authorities of the Federal Government may wish to employ them. They will be raised either by volunteering or conscription. Those who volunteer in any old regiment will receive a bounty of $300. Those who volunteer in a new three years regiment will receive a bounty of $100; those who wait to be conscripted will receive no bounty.

The entire Enrolled Militia of the State will be organized into companies, battalions, regiments, brigades, and divisions, and officered so as to be in a condition at any time to be called out by the Governor, and at least one company of each regimental district will be drafted for active militia, unless such companies are formed by voluntary association within the time fixed by General Orders, No. 3, from these Headquarters.

With a view to facilitate the organization of the entire militia force of Kentucky, a Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel will be commissioned in each county to superintend the regimental organizations.

By order of the Governor: JOHN BOYLE, Adjutant General of Kentucky.

HEAD-QUARTERS KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, Frankfort, October 9th, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 3.

The State of Kentucky is infested in many quarters with armed guerrillas, outlaws at once to their country and humanity. Every day brings tidings of the enormities they commit, of murders of innocent citizens and disabled soldiers, of robberies of banks, sackings of towns and wholesale destruction of property, yet the citizens of this Commonwealth, disregarding the exhortations of the military authorities, and unmoved by the destruction of the lives and property of their neighbors, view, with apathetic indifference, the occurrence of these horrors, accumulating every day.

It is therefore proclaimed and ordered, that, unless at least one Volunteer Company is organized under the provisions of the State Guard Law, as directed by General Order, No. 1, from these Headquarters, and reported to this department within fifteen days, from each county in the State, a draft will be immediately enforced. The State shall be free from its murderous foes, even though every arm be required to aid in their destruction.

Some friend to his country in each county will materially assist the execution of this order, by sending at once, to these Headquarters, names of gentlemen who will act as Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel under the State Guard Law, and commissions will at once issue for them.

By order of the Governor: JOHN BOYLE, Adjutant General of Ky.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT.

Thomas A. Alexander, President, and Lucius J. Hendee, Secretary of the ETNA INSURANCE COMPANY, being severally sworn, depose and say, each for himself, that the foregoing is a full, true and correct statement of the affairs of the said company; that the said insurance company is the bona fide owner of at least ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS of actual Cash Capital invested in Stocks and Bonds; that the above described investments, nor any part thereof, are made for the benefit of any individual exercising authority in the management of said company, nor for any other person or persons whatever; and that they are the above described officers of the said ETNA Insurance Company.

THOS. A. ALEXANDER, President.
LUCIUS J. HENDEE, Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for said County of Hartford, State of Connecticut, this 2d day of July, 1863.

HENRY FOWLER, Justice of the Peace.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, Ky.,
FRANKFORT, July 2, 1863.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a
